INTERESTING FEATURES RECALLED ABOUT THE BATTLE OF VIMY

Vimy Ridge, that hitherto impregnable fortress guarded by the German forces as probably the most valuable point on the entire western front, fell before the attack of the Canadian corps on Easter Monday, April 9, 1917, in one of the most perfectly coordinated and skillfully executed attacks in all military history.

The attack was a model of military precision coupled with supreme heroism on the part of the troops engaged. It was the only and only time in the whole great war that the four divisions were engaged in many other battles but in none other did all go over in one line.

Preparations for the capture of Vimy's heights commenced immediately following the last attack delivered by the 4th Canadian division on the Somme on Nov. 13, 1916.

The Canadian corps took over the entire ridge and as the sector had been quiet during the fierce fighting on the Somme it was hoped that the men and battered battalions would have a rest while in this position. But the Canadians had been ordered to hold the ridge and as the sector had been quiet during the fierce fighting on the Somme it was hoped that the men and battered battalions would have a rest while in this position.

the north, near Lens and its main suburb, Arras, but in German hands were fully and strongly, commonly called Vimy Ridge, in Canadian hands. A railway ran through the line and both Canadian and German ends were carefully guarded. Then there was Calonne, with its massive stone bridge, and Souches, once a prosperous agricultural village. The left flank of the Canadian position was a most unhealthy spot, snipers being able to shoot into the trenches from all angles.

First Blow Struck
On Dec. 20, 1916, the Canadians struck their first blow. The 1st Canadian Mounted Rifles, 8th Infantry Brigade, 2nd Division, carried out a raid and held the German front lines for a distance of 400 yards for 30 minutes, destroying many of the defenders and capturing 85 prisoners, including one officer. It had followed a raid during the winter and the Canadians were outstandingly successful. Many prisoners were captured and much valuable information.

In addition to this, much other valuable preliminary work was done during the winter. Shells were collected and stored in tens of thousands; gun emplacements were constructed and camouflaged; roads—23 miles—were built and maintained; a lumber mill was in a nearby wood, which turned out 200 tons of lumber for the plank roads every week; 50,000 tons were concentrated within a few miles; water supply of 60,000 gallons a day was installed; 22 engines and 24 pumping stations were put in and 45 miles of lines were built to the forward area and those reaching the front lines had to be sunk to prevent destruction by shell fire. One reservoir had a capacity of 50,000 gallons.

Tramway System Built
A tramway system was built, which could only be operated at night and which was under almost continual artillery bombardment. Yet 830 tons of supplies were moved over this system in one week. In addition, 300 push carts were built for bringing out wounded. Telephone communications (Continued on page three)

WHEAT POOL BASED ON CANADIAN PLAN

SIoux FALLS, S. D.—Plans are being pushed to a successful conclusion for the organization of a four-state wheat pool, with headquarters in South Dakota.

The plan is called on by the most ambitious ever undertaken by wheat growers of the United States, and endorsement for the movement was afforded by the great success of the Canadian wheat pool.

The program for the four-state pool, formulated by W. C. Allen, publisher of a South Dakota farm paper, provides for combining wheat growers of Montana, North Dakota, Minnesota and South Dakota.

It is pointed out that the territory to be included in the pool is one of the richest wheat producing areas in the Nation. It is stated that the new pool will be the same name as the Canadian wheat pool, the influence of which already is being felt in the great marketing centers of the world.

With the headquarters of the four-state pool in South Dakota, in the center of the spring wheat belt, the annual production of which totals about 300,000,000 bushels, it is hoped the new venture will gain impetus and increased support as the work of perfecting the organization proceeds.

As wheat pooling on a large scale has proven a success in Western Canada, those pushing the organization of the new pool say there is no reason why the United States should lag behind Canada in adopting more efficient means of marketing wheat.

Model Will Drill In Turner Valley

The Model Oil Co. has decided to drill on its lease in Turner Valley at an early date. W. C. Fisher, managing director of the company, announced this week.

The site is on north half, 1-4-8, 22-30-5, W. 5, which is regarded by geologists as being excellently located with comparatively shallow drilling.

The directors and officers of the company which were elected at the annual meeting of the company are: President, Thos. W. McKee; vice-president, William R. McArthur; secretary, Eric Richardson; solicitor and managing director, William C. Fisher, B.C.L.; directors, H. R. Chaney, W. W. Grant McKee, Chester W. Barber.

The shareholders accepted the report of the directors and unanimously passed a resolution expressing appreciation for the services rendered by Mr. Fisher.

PRINCE MENDS BOW FELLOW RIDER

LONDON—The Daily Express says the Prince of Wales asked a doctor after the Royal Navy cap (put) a point pleurophoria at Oxtan.

The Prince had dismounted and was entering the weighing room when he learned that one of the competitors, Captain Alexander, had broken his collar bone. There was no doctor present and the Prince hastened to the captain and administered first aid.

THE BOW RIVER CONSTITUENCY U.F.A. CONVENTION

Through the efforts of the Strathmore Board of Trade, the annual convention of the above association will be held in Strathmore about July 17th and 18th, according to advice received from the Secretary-Treasurer Mr. H. W. Leonard, of Tudor.

Mr. J. J. Dunn, Secretary-Treasurer of the local Board of Trade, is also advised by Mr. Leonard, that the President of the U.F.A. association, Mr. J. H. Vailant, will shortly be in Strathmore to complete the arrangements for the convention.

It is estimated that two hundred to three hundred and fifty visitors will be present, and the convention will be addressed by members of both the Federal and Provincial Legislatures, as well as officials of the various co-operative marketing associations.

There was considerable competition to secure the convention for some of the other towns in the constituency, but the facilities offered by Strathmore, were superior in every way, and the residents are to be asked to co-operate in giving the visitors a good time.

Coming Events

The Ladies Aid of the Sacred Heart Church will hold a tea and sale of home cooking on Saturday, April 14, in the old Strathmore Trading Co. building.

Bower, L.R.A.M., A.L.C.M., L.Mus., will give a popular concert at the Memorial Hall on Thursday, April 26th. The Society will be augmented by the St. Stephen's Chorists and other Artists.

The Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. Nels White on Wednesday, April 18th, at 3 o'clock.

PEACE RIVER ELEVATORS ARE FILLED WITH GRAIN

PEACE RIVER, Alta.—Because of the tremendous flood of wheat to be moved from northern Alberta, every elevator in the Peace River country is filled to the roof with grain and, in consequence, there is a growing demand that the Federal Government erect a storage elevator in that district. Although the Government has moved out approximately 300,000 bushels of wheat a week from the Peace River, it is thought that the farmers may be unable to get this year's crop marketed before next summer.

The railroad management is doing all that is possible to handle the enormous volume of this year's crop and no blame is to be attached to them, but it is felt by Peace River business men that the rush of grain from the north has developed beyond the resources provided to handle the situation. It is stated that the engine crews have no time for rest as no grain is to be empty cars placed at the different sidings than they are filled immediately and the same engine carries out the loaded cars in order to keep the grain moving. In spite of this, there is a serious congestion of grain in the north and hauling of grain to market has practically ceased for the present.

VIMY COMRADES CELEBRATE THE ELEVENTH ANNIVERSARY

The eleventh anniversary of the Battle of Vimy Ridge was celebrated by the Strathmore Branch Canadian Legion, I.R.E.A., in a manner that recalled all previous communications held by them. It was a real family party, the weather and roads at last making it possible for country members to attend, comrades and their families came out, almost to the last man, woman and child, the number exceeding one hundred and fifty.

After a parade of Spring flowers in the way of paper hats, the company, accompanied with one another with an hour or so at cards, the first prizes being won by W. R. Wilson and Comrade H. S. B. Chamberlain, the congratulations going to Mr. H. Patterson and J. H. Gannon, Comrade W. Springthorpe, as usual, acted as M.C., being ably assisted by Comrade F. G. Gannon.

The "Very Light Concert Party" whose initial appearance occurred last Vimy Night next entertained with an entirely new programme. The troupe has lost a few of its members since its last appearance, but they have received heavy reinforcements, and are as bright as ever.

Brenda Plender opened the concert with a fine violin solo, executed in his customary mastery manner; Mr. Earl Gifford received hearty appreciation for his strumming two banjo solos; Comrade Griffith, of Calgary sang a couple of fine songs, "The Trumpeter" being most fitting for the occasion; Mr. C. A. Lydiate, who for loved, was never better in his rendering of "The Company Sergeant Major." The lights were changed to an orange glow, and Mrs. T. Schulte stepped into the light, charming the audience with the "Garden Song." The encore "Golden Slippers" was given assistance by Comrade G. H. Patrick in a "singsy fashion"; Mr. J. R. Gannon also had to sing a second number to his sad solo. Jimmie can sure too, the born solo. Sally Wright captivated all hearts with her sweet voice and manner in the "Garden Song" and "The Soldier's Song." The climax of these musical evenings began description. "The Pip-Squeak" quartette, whose names were secured through the juvenile commissioners, turned out to be Comrade P. Wright, former; Comrade R. Patterson, shanty; Comrade G. H. Patrick, colored gent; and Comrade J. A. French, Irishman, rendered the night's highest with their operatic antics. To say the least, they were ambitious. They "did" solos, acted as disjuncted chorus, and were at the same time the ballet.

The climax was reached when the stage, got on his toes, fell short of two bars in attempting the high note, stretching his neck until the white showed declared his frantic adoration for Clarissa, his love call bringing in the entire family, who brought down the house and shook the rafters with their steps. The "ladies" were Master T. Glendinning, H. Rellinger and G. H. Patrick, the prancing gents being Master A. Gray, H. McGowan and J. Garrett. This turn created such a sensation that it had to be repeated, and at the conclusion they received a well merited reward in the shape of Spring bonnets, a cane, flannel cap and Miss F. Garrett and Comrade M. Baird acted as the judges. The "ladies" were Master T. Glendinning, H. Rellinger and G. H. Patrick, the prancing gents being Master A. Gray, H. McGowan and J. Garrett. It only needs mention that the supper that followed was under the care of Mesdames French, Hyde, Gifford, Springthorpe and Springthorpe, and that every lady added their quota to the feast to make it known how splendid the evening was.

The toast list, as the celebration demanded, was as auspicious one.

First, Vice-President Comrade A. D. Shrimpton, acting as chairman, after proposing the Silent and toast to the King, launched into a flow of oratory that showed his training as a first citizen. The way he recited of names and figures one would have actually thought he had been reading a list of names, Comrade T. Mayhew, President Calgary Branch, did justice to the subject, his remarks and fraternal greetings were warmly appreciated. Comrade Gannon made the members blush at the flattering terms he gave in his toast to the Legion. Comrade J. S. Gannon replied in a manner that did credit to himself and the association. His remarks were as a proposal of the toast to the "British Empire" Comrade F. R. Prince is a spellbinder. The way he brooded the subject left the regular, Comrade F. Switman, in a position that few have seen in left-benefit of words. What he did say was to the point. "The Imperial Force" was handled in a mastery manner by both the proposer and the responder. Comrades T. B. Winter and P. J. Dunn. We all know how well these comrades are versed in the art of putting a matter into words. Comrade D. N. Gannon could not resist his little joke in proposing "The Ghosts," and some of us are chuckling yet. Mr. T. M. Weirs replied, mentioned how much the Town Council felt the honour in being the guests of the Legion, and tried to defend his nationality. We said to him, "You are a Canadian, no one can be so foolish as to accuse you of being really Canadian, but you all know T. M. is Canadian. W. S. Patterson was so full of praise for the ladies that he was almost himself fast enough. He was thankful when Mrs. J. A. French covered his attention with a reply that just fitted nicely.

A most pleasing affair was the presentation to the new deputy, Comrade and Mrs. J. A. Downie. Anyone who had the least faintest doubt as to their not being eye opened.

The chairman expressed the regret of the Branch at the near departure of Comrade Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Harris, and presented them with a token as a mark of the esteem they were held by the members.

The speeches were interspersed with solos and community choruses in keeping with the different moods. No one had any trouble in noting their voice be heard.

The wind up of the notable evening was the dance which the company kept busy at until 1:30 a.m. As a last word we mustn't forget the decorating of buildings, which was effectively carried out, being fully decked with streamers of the four Canadian Army Corps colours. This Vimy night needs no more than it is as if he had won the war, he is able to hold the next anniversary.

Will Coolidge Be Named For President

WASHINGTON—William H. Willcox, of New York, who managed the Hughes presidential campaign in 1916, predicted, after a call at the White House, that President Coolidge would be nominated at the Kansas City convention next June.

Whether the President would accept the nomination is problematical, said Mr. Willcox, said, conceding he would do so under such circumstances.

Willcox, a former chairman of the Republican National Committee, said there was wide popular demand for Mr. Coolidge's reelection. With him definitely eliminated from the field Secretary Hoover would have the widest popular support of the Republican presidential possibilities.

The New Yorker said he had discussed politics briefly with the President, but would not disclose the nature of his talk.

ALEXANDER, A REAL WINNER

Alexander, King of Macedonia found himself, at 33, the ruler of most of the known world, and, crying because there were no more empires to conquer, died in Babylon in May or June, 323 B.C. Alexander, the pitcher, at the age of 23, found himself the leading hurler in the National League, as far as earned run effectiveness went, for the second year in his season, and went on pitching for eight seasons more, and is still going strong at this writing.

In 1915, history hath it, a young pitcher and outfielder of the Boston American League club appeared in his first world series game as a pinch hitter, batting for Shore in the ninth inning, but failed to get a hit. Alexander, then at the end of his fifth season with the Phillies, won that series, 3 to 1. The young pinch hitter's name was George Herman Ruth, and the two were to meet again in a world series between the Cardinals and Yankees eleven years later.

Alexander, as everybody remembers, won the second game of the 1926 series 6 to 2, keeping Ruth hitless; he won the sixth game 10 to 2, again keeping Ruth hitless; and he pitched the final two and a third innings of the seventh game, again keeping Ruth hitless. Back in the four years 1914, '15, '16 and '17, "Alex" averaged more than 39 wins a season. He won 28 games in 1911 and 27 in 1920, and last season, when 49 years old, he finished with 21 wins and 10 losses, and an earned average of 2.52. He's one of the great winners of the world, this Alexander!

IRISH MISS GETS ODDS OF 7,000 TO ONE

DUBLIN—Miss Annie O'Doherty, of Penbrook, Road, won a double on the Lincolnshire stakes and the Grand National and collected £1,000 to £1. She put a shilling on Dark Warrior in the Lincolnshire and Tippet in the Grand National, and got back 250 pounds, or 1175 to 1, on a 25 cent bet. Had she put up a guinea, she would have collected $15,000.

TIA JUANA FUTURITY GOES TO SPOCKEY

SAN DIEGO, Calif. Spockey, a brilliant chestnut, daughter of Breakaway winner Futurity, won the 1928 Tia Juana Futurity at the Tia Juana race track, Lido, the outstanding colt of the meeting, was second, one length before Lady Va Va. Jockey Tommy Luther, who was astride Crystal Pennant, in the Cotroch handicap, gave the filly a splendid ride, taking her away from the barrier first and drawing out around the turn to win handily four lengths in front of Lido.

The victory was worth $10,450 to Spockey's owner, William A. Porter, western agent for Ashby Stock Farm. Spockey paid her supporters $420 straight; $230 place, and $20 show in the Mutual machines.

Jockey Luther rode the winner of the Cotroch handicap, worth about $100,000, and is well and favorably known to the Chicago and Calgary boys who take a shot at the ponies.

CANADIAN PACERS INVADE STATES

Every year there is a peaceful invasion of the United States by Canadians—the well-trained army of Canadian pacers, attracted by rich purses at the leading harness meetings. Not all the members of this racing army are so well known in Canada, but many were brothers here. The newcomers were The Red, Joe Patch, H. Frank Rogers, Jr., and Grant Grattan, leading money-winning pacers of 1908, 1912, 1913 and 1926, respectively, all but "Joe" bred in this country, and he was Canadian-owned. Four times the American Derby has been raced at Kalamazoo, Mich., and twice the winners have been Canadian bred—Taran Grattan, 1925, and Taran Grattan, 1927. Louie Grattan, race record two minutes, was the sensational Canadian of the 1920 season. In the van of the invaders of 1926 are Whinlapp and Grattan Bros., who are held in high esteem by owners of fast candidates. Whinlapp was a close second in time close to two minutes, and won seven of ten starts last year. Grattan Bros. paced the most sensational race on record—half-mile heats on a half-mile course, in 1924, 1925, 1926, a world's record by a big margin. Kinley Direct, who lost Whinlapp once, and whose sensational race at Milwaukee last year in 2:03, 2:05 and 2:02½, led to his purchase by a Kansas City fancier, will try for the big money. Ray Grattan is another close to two-minute performer in the ranks of the leaders. Silver Grattan, owned in Northern New York, but Canadian bred, has to his credit a third mile in 2:07½ on the half-mile course at Watertown, N.Y., and looks like a strong bidder for first honor in some of the $25,000 stakes he will contest. Then there are also such fast ones as Daisy Grattan, Norma Grattan, Ruth Grattan, Star Grattan and Vivian Grattan in the important stakes, to say nothing of the many of lesser note that will be raced, from Maine to Nebraska.

SHE WOULD SHUN BOOKS TO BECOME RACE RIDER

BALTIMORE, Md.—Mrs. Marie Owens, aged 25, weight 166 pounds, an athletic young woman, who prefers to ride racehorses around the riding oval to bookkeeping, has applied at the office of the Maryland Jockey Club for information as to how to become a jockey. "I've been riding horses since I was three years old," Mrs. Owens said, "and although I have never ridden in a real race I feel that I could make a success of it."

WALTER JOHNSON'S CONDITION BETTER

WASHINGTON—Walter Johnson, the famous grand old man of baseball, "should be out of the emergency hospital and in good shape within a few weeks," Dr. Harry Kaufman, his physician predicts.

Johnson, who has been in Jacksonville with the Newark club of the International League, of which he is manager, was brought here and removed to the hospital from a train in a wheel chair, suffering from the after-effects of influenza.

"Johnson's condition has been very satisfactory during the past few days," Dr. Kaufman said, "and the outlook for him is splendid.

"He needs rest and building up, and I have no doubt that, barring further sickness, he should be out of the hospital shortly.

Johnson takes his confinement stoutly.

DELANEY VS. LOUGHRAN

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—Jack Delaney, who recently stepped into the heavyweight class, will go back into the light heavyweight division probably to meet Tommy Loughran in a six-round title fight in this division, but neither man will meet Gene Tunney this year, Tex Rickard announces.

Richard said he was expecting acceptance of a Loughran-DeLaney bout offer from their managers, but he stressed that Delaney's shift back to light old Evers had no significance as far as Tunney's opponent this year was concerned.

"Neither Delaney nor Loughran is big enough to worry a man as strong and clever as Tunney," Richard declared, but added that Loughran, "if he keeps on growing, may be a good match for Tunney in 1929."

"It would be foolish for Tommy to step out of the light heavyweight class now," the promoter asserted.

BAINTREE

The ladies of the Baintree U.P.W.A. held their first meeting for April at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Baintree, Wednesday, April 4th. Although the roads, after the recent snowstorm, were poor, a very pleasant lunch was served, there were eleven present. The meeting was opened with Community singing, roll call, and the minutes of the last meeting read; then the various committees were appointed, and a chairman named for each. A debate was talked of, and another while drive decided on, to be held at Mr. John Molins's, Mrs. Molins very kindly offering her home for the occasion. A very pleasant lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. Wills, assisted by Mrs. Edwards, after which the ladies departed to their homes with pleasant recollections of the afternoon, and of work well done.

Rosebud Concert Splendid Success

In spite of bad, almost impassable roads, there was a very large and enthusiastic crowd in Rosebud Hall, when a program was given in aid of the Orphan Fund of the United Church. The financial returns were very creditable. The program was pronounced the best that had been given in years by local talent, and reflected great credit to all who contributed to it. Miscellaneous items comprised the first part, which after singing O Canada, was begun by Mr. and Mrs. W. Hyman with a dashing instrumental rendering of an "Hungarian Dance." Accorded very hearty applause they responded with "Minuet in G" played in fine taste. Mrs. H. Burnard, with evident talent gave a charming reading that won immediate recognition. Miss Edith Murphy delighted with her interpretation of "Love Song of Rases," and she sang as an encore "My Rosary." Mr. Brian Inspry was very happy in his choice of songs, "Why Do I Always Remember" and "Lay My Head Beneath a Rose" as an encore selection. Mr. Howard Hyman was in fine form, he sang with rollicking abandon the "Gypsy Trail" which was deservedly popular. He responded with a contracted and appealing rendition of "In An Old Fashioned Town." Miss Helen Murphy's violin selection "Romance" thrilled all violin lovers. Misses O. Jones and H. Sumner sang and marshaled playing of "The Bride" was a very popular piano duet. He responded with a piano solo were rendered with their usual skill and zest. Mrs. J. Walker's contralto song was a fine contribution. Selections were also given by the United Church quartette composed of Mrs. H. Summers, Mrs. J. Walker, Mrs. G. N. DePoe, and Rev. P. Halstead. The accompanists were Mrs. W. Hyman, Mrs. O. N. DePoe, Misses O. Jones and H. Summers, who each gave sympathetic and strong support.

A group of boys were given enthusiastic reception that, acrimony, funny panoramic sketches "And the Lamp Went Out." Miss D. Crowe read the connecting parts with dramatic expression, while Ralph Summers played the part of Dr. Devereux, and Gene Devereux, Mrs. Devereux, Howard Crowe was the villain, and Grant DePoe was the hero. Keith McPherson added the offstage accompaniment, in this popular number. The cast of "Ricky Rans" exceeded all previous local amateur dramatic efforts. Mr. G. N. DePoe sustained the part of E. Fortune, and looked and played well, while Miss Nellie Gross as Jessie Fortune, was coy and winsome in her role. Mr. H. Brian, as Fairwood, proved to be a capable and vivacious villain, while Mrs. J. Nelson, bore the adverse of fortune with characteristic composure until his spiritual defence of injured innocence. H. Lees was a realistic representative of the nemesis of justice, as Detective Haind, and Genial W. J. Crowe gave a life-like portrayal of the part of a miser. The comedy parts were added by a considerable skill and verve by Mrs. J. Sangster, as Mrs. Dodge, a susceptible and willing victim of the charms and banter of Larry McKelown which part was filled by Mr. C. A. Danmore in a regularly funny but true-to-life characterization of an Irish Alderman. Mrs. H. Summers sang the companying solo with fine feeling. The stage presented a fresh and lively appearance since the director had painted a new background. Altogether the play was a very commendable performance. The parts had been well assigned, and the manner of production suggested great credit was due each member of the cast and the director, Rev. P. Halstead.

R. J. and Mrs. Kearna have returned from Calgary, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Paul, the well-known Alameda breeder. R. J. spent one evening at an entertainment given in Byrle Hall to the members of St. George's Lodge 1002 P., in which Harry and his daughter Heatie took quite an important part.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Hill, of Victoria, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. MacLellan at the home of Mrs. MacLellan's father, A. A. Moore. Mr. and Mrs. Hill are just returning from a trip to Africa, where they spent the winter. Mr. Hill has a soft spot in his heart for Alberta where he spent many years and developed the coal mines at Hillcrest known as the Hillcrest Collieries.

The following special prices have been contributed for the Strathmore District School Fair: Geo. H. Jones, $5.00; Christie's Book Store, Brandon, football; C. Chapman Co., London, Ont., looseleaf scribbler; Simpson's, Regina, $5.00 merchandise; P. Burns & Co., sack of Peeding Digestive; G. P. and J. Galt, Ltd., 5 lbs. tea; J. Vair Anderson, Jeweler, Calgary, a brooch.

The death occurred suddenly at Calgary Good Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock of Mrs. William Shearer, wife of the Rev. Dr. William Shearer, associate minister at Knox United church. Death was due to heart failure, and only one son, W. R. Shearer, was present at the home, 223 Sixth avenue west, when Mrs. Shearer passed away. When Dr. Shearer left home a little more than an hour before his wife's death she seemed to be in good health. She had had a heart attack the previous Wednesday.

If you notice "Tallal Red" getting down to work a little late these mornings, say nothing about it, as he is busy at a bee these fine days, and admits that he likes to be busy.

E. P. Foster, of Calgary, was in town on Monday. He succeeded in dodging the police for most of the day, but finally was recommended to get out of a bee these fine days, and admits that he likes to be busy.

Miss Katie Matheson is the guest of Mrs. Hittle.

Miss Florence Waterman, of Calgary, is the guest of Miss Violet Hyde.

Mrs. Norman Haines and children, of Great Falls, Montana, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones.

E. Corbett, Secretary of the Keoma Kathryn School Fair was in town on Tuesday, enthusiastic as ever about the Fair, which has grown so in popularity and volume that for 1928 they find it necessary to hold a two-day exhibition.

"Bob" Arthur won third place in the derby stake at High River Field Trials with "Mandy Lou". Dr. J. N. Gunn's famous dog "Kelly," a "Liewellyn" better won first place. Bob also got third in the Maiden stake, with Mandy Lou.

BRITAIN'S NEW CHANCELLOR Sir Douglas Hogg, Attorney-General, has been appointed Lord Chancellor of Great Britain, succeeding Lord Cave, whose resignation because of ill-health was announced on Wednesday.

Tommy White was in town on Tuesday looking over the local field in regard to starting a boxing gymnasium, and the prospects are that one will be organized shortly, which will give the local Turnneys and Dempseys an opportunity to display their wares.

The many friends of Rev. Capt. W. H. Muncester, will regret to hear that Bill Muncester is very seriously ill in Calgary.

Considerable interest is being taken in the Cross Country, California to New York Marathon race, which is now known as the "bunion race", but Bill Turney says that a bunion race is nothing new, as he can remember distinctly the first bunion race held from Annapolis to Ottawa in 1873 between Robert Sparke, of Ottawa, and a man named Pace, from England. R. C. Barber and John Graham were the judges, while Bill himself had charge of the "refreshments".

Mrs. Platt and Miss Bay were Calgary guests of Mrs. Roy Barclay.

Miss Florence Dwyer and Miss Christensen are spending the holidays in Calgary, guests of Mrs. Roy Barclay.

Ernie Wright returned from Calgary sporting a new bicycle, which he has been busy demonstrating to his young friends.

THE MODERN DANCE

The editor of a paper in a neighboring town went to a dance recently for the first time in many years and expected to see the same graceful waltzes and hear the rhythm of the old-time dances. What he did see and hear he describes in his paper as follows:

We stopped and took a peep into the dance hall the other night and were fully convinced that some of the best wrestling matches the world has ever known have been missing a fortune in the sale of hydraulic rams, if it hadn't been for the music, arrests for assault and battery could have been made promiscuously. Some of the dancers showed characteristics of first-class wrestlers. All contortionists and some record breaking hop, skip and shake artists were present, with hair oil running down their spinal columns and their hair plastered back over a cranium that had nothing in it but a burning desire to spar with the Charleston or "Tee Top." Yes! our kid was there backing 'em around the hall just like the rest, but with different movements that he puts on when he pushes the lawn mower at home. An eighty-year old man with the spine would be a real Doc Brummel in a ball room now.

One couple swayed everything but their feet and they didn't have any parking sign either. Some of the sheiks bent over their partners at an angle that would make the Hunchback of Notre Dame look as straight as a telephone pole. Others grasped their "lil' girls in a vice-like grip while some held them at arms' length and kicked them in the shins. There were more girls there who rolled their hose than will ever roll a perambulator. The music resembled a 1913 Ford car running through a volcanic culvert.—Viking News mond, of Nightingale, attended the Vimy Night banquet. Mr. and Mrs. W. Salis, of Dairyo, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. MacLellan, of Cairn-hill, Mr. and Mrs. J. Sharp and Bobbie, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Drummond, of Elwood, took in the sight on Vimy night.

Major and Mrs. D. A. MacGlashan were seen tripping the light fantastic on Easter Monday.

Mrs. Alex G.—and her speed partner had a race around the dance floor on Monday.

Some guests at the Vimy dinner were not sure whether Dave G. said "cousin" or "cousin". For their information it may be said that the feeling is much the same, only the irritation of Cuties is around the heart and no relief is gained by scratching.

That was a nasty remark to make in welcoming the guests to warn them not to take away any more than they could eat. John and T. M. looked very guilty, and someone had the nerve to reel John's pockets as he left.

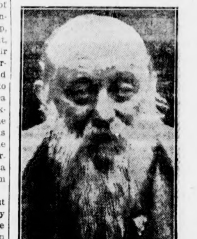

A. D. shows that Pat, as an old de camp in the army may have been an asset, but he has his own opinion of him as an aid at a banquet. You bet there is a difference. Pat felt he had three stripes and made them too the line.

The Nightingale contingent were present one hundred per cent. Messrs R. Smith and A. MacLeod, of Calgary Legion, accompanied Ted Mathew from Calgary.

ROCKYFORD CANADIAN LEGION ENTERTAINMENT

On the evening of April 4th, a very successful entertainment was held in the Rockyford Hall under the auspices of the Rockyford Branch of the Canadian Legion.

The outstanding success of the evening was a most stirring and patriotic address by Capt. Dancy.
 The audience showed a keen appreciation of his words and the cause that he so ably advocated.

A very fine programme was given,
 including songs, sketches and recitations of very high merit. Thanks are due to Mr. Ralph Stone, who kindly took charge of this part of the entertainment, also to the performers, one and all, whose assistance was greatly appreciated.

The evening opened with the singing of "O Canada," followed by a minute silence in memory of our fallen comrades. A reel of comedy and topical pictures were kindly donated by Mr. Lingsfelder.

The next item was two songs most charmingly sung by Mrs. Mackenzie, sympathetically accompanied by Mr.
 Rymal. Katherine's. This was followed by a most amusing sketch entitled "A Photographer's Troubles," by the Rosebud Village school chil-
 grapher, and Melvin and Owen Wilson as the Thin Lady and the Fat One, brought down the house.

Bill Miller next gave two recitations
 by the ever popular Robert Service, which most justly brought forth enthusiastic applause.

Then followed a miniature sketch entitled "They're In Again" by Messrs Kenworthy and Omar Crear, whose portrayal of the two unhappy coloured ladies was most amusing.

Mr. Rennie next told us how Bill
 Adams won the battle of Waterloo, and while not vouching for the historical exactitude of the account, we can say that the story told nothing in the telling.

The chairman next introduced Capt.
 Dancy, whose stirring and patriotic address was followed by God Save the King.

A direct and most gratifying result of this evening's entertainment was the enrolment of several new members in the Canadian Legion.

ROCKYFORD

Owing to a misunderstanding the lecture on "Aviation," which Mr. T.
 Uawin was to have given after the picture last week, has been postponed to next Saturday night, April 14th, after the movies. All interested in aviation from whatever standpoint, are invited to attend.

On Easter Monday the Catholic Women's League put on a most successful dance, in the Rockyford Hall.
 The roads have now dried up, and the attendance was good while the orchestra, the Jolly Boys, were in excellent form.

We are glad to learn that the small son of Mr. and Mrs. Kettich is steadily improving in health since returning from hospital, and we trust that the improvement may be continued.

The Easter Services in Rockyford Churches were well attended, the singing was excellent. At St. Rita's Church, High Mass was sung by the Choir, Miss Marie Birch taking the solo parts, which were sung beautifully. Rev. Father Killen gave a very interesting sermon on Easter. At the United Church the choir sang a Canticle entitled "A Morning in the Orient," the story being read by Miss Lillian Dyer. Mrs. W. A. Mackenzie took the solo parts, which were well received. During the service, Rev. C. G.
 Hookins conducted the ceremony of the Induction of the New Elders, who were Messrs J. W. Kenworthy, R.
 Dyer, S. Ropple. There was also a record attendance at Sunday School.

The Chevrolet demonstration in the Rockyford Hall on March 27th, under the auspices of F. W. Gibson, was omitted from the last issue. Considering the bad weather, there was a real good turn out. The show was very interesting and instructive. There were a number of prizes given to the holders of lucky numbers, who were as follows: 1st, A. Widd, 2nd, Mrs.
 Carl Johnston; and J. McNeil.

Fred Gibson has been confined to his home for the past ten days with an attack of influenza. We are pleased to report that he is able to be around again.

EPITAPHS
 A correspondent of the Ottawa Journal, writing on the subject of quaint epitaphs, quotes some which are not only quaint but humorous as well. We, in our turn, pass on a few of the quotations:

Ribbesford, Bewley (on the wife of

THE WEATHER FOR 1927

The season of 1927 was outstanding due to the fact that it was the year of the third highest precipitation since 1915, and included late rains and snows that delayed threshing. There was also frost and more than usual hail damage.

The average precipitation (total) at 16 stations scattered over the West was 18.31 inches while the 15 years average was 13.25 inches. The total precipitation at Strathmore was 17.77 inches with an average for 15 years of 14.55 inches. The mean annual temperature at Strathmore was 24.12 F. with a 15 year average of 26.79 F.

The record at Strathmore by month was as follows:

Jan.	Feb.	Mar.	Apr.	May	June	July	Aug.	Sept.	Oct.	Nov.	Dec.
pppt. 0.15"	mean temp 10.6F	pppt. 0.54"	mean temp 11.6F	pppt. 9.45"	mean temp 26.3F	pppt. 9.40"	mean temp 26.3F	pppt. 3.18"	mean temp 45.5F	pppt. 3.22"	mean temp 58.5F

Total 17.77"	34.12F

In the spring, seeding was late owing to high winds, cold weather and falls of snow at the end of April and beginning of May but there was good reserve moisture for starting the crop.

HEARD ON THE STREET

Mrs. Newlwyd: "Now, George, dear, I'll do all the cooking for a month, will you let me?"
George: "You'll get my life insurance and a long black veil."

An innocent maiden was Kate, but now, it is said to relate, since she bought a small car, all her friends, near and far, can't prevail on that girl to go straight.

She: "My, but this orange juice has a peculiar flavor."
George: "Yes, it's genuine orange juice."

He: "Didn't some brainless idiot propose to you before we were married?"
She: "Yes."

He: "I wish to goodness you'd married him."
She: "I did."

Fred Dunn: "What marking is there on your golf ball?"
D. M. Lander: "No Yours, in bright red."

Teacher: "Do you know what becomes of boys who use bad language when they are playing marbles?"
Vincent: "Yes, Miss. They grow up and play golf like Ernie Whitcomb."

First Farmer: "I've got a freak on my farm—a two-legged calf."
Second Farmer: "I know. He called on my daughter last night."

She: "Oh, Frank, what a charming little ornament! But what is it?"
He: "It's made of gold, but it's not a brooch or ring, or a bracelet. I have never seen anything like it."
Frank: "It's a 'tinkler'."

She: "Where in the world did you get that horrid necktie?"
Gene: "The laugh is on you. You gave it to me last Christmas."

Prospective Girl-friend: "But I fail to see your objection. You admit that my character is without blemish."
The Father: "Yes, that's just the trouble. Since I'm going to be for me to go through the rest of my life with you held up as a shining example."

One Maiden Sister to Another Maiden Sister: "It would seem as good to hear a man's voice 'round the house." The lowest average was 0.2 miles per hour which was recorded on January 18th and 21st and on Nov. 11th.

The monthly averages were as follows:

The following letter was sent to D. A. Perry complaining about the noise made by shunting operations throughout the night.
"Gentlemen, you must your engines dig and done and fire and spit and pant and grate and grind and puff and bump and clug and hoot and toot and whistle and wheeze and jar and jerk and rattle and clank and thrum and roar and rattle and yell and smoke and smell and shriek all the night long."

Telephone Operator: "I have your party. Deposit five cents, please."
Source at Pay Station: "Whazzit?"
Operator: "Please deposit your money."

Source: "Listen, girl, wait! I want a conversation from a 'fren', not financial advice, from a strange lady."

Motorist: "I say, will two dollars pay for the wretched hen which I've run over?"
Bill Wilkinson: "You'd better make it five dollars. I have a rooster that thought a lot of that hen, and the shock might kill 'im, too."

A cub reporter, frequently reported for prolixity and warned to be brief, turned in the following:
"A shocking affair occurred last night. Sir Edward Hopeless, a guest at Lady Pannore's ball, complained of feeling ill, took a highball, his hat, his coat, his departure, no idea of his friends, a taxi, a pistol from his pocket, and finally his life. Nice chap. Regrets and all that."

Young Housewife: "Are you sure this cleaner that you are selling will really take out the dirt?"
Agent: "Will it? Say, lady, yesterday I rubbed some of it on a copy of 'Scandalous Stories' and when I got through I had the 'Sunday School Gazette'."

Andrie: "Mother said cut up all your ice-cream, or you couldn't have any spinach."
The following story is told about an Alberta lady teacher and a western cowboy, who wrote to her follows:

"When you came to teach the school, I was only a rough cowboy at the Bar-X ranch. I rode forty miles to town each night to get plastered. I rolled the house and ate peas with my knife. Then, one day, I saw you. I got to know you. Friendship blossomed in due season. I began to wash my face. I cut myself down to five beers a night. I took up a correspondence course and learned to talk like a lady. I began to read books. I grew fond of Shakespeare and works on table manners. Slowly but surely I improved. And now, Miss Corflower—Bridle—will you be my partner for life?"

"Sorry, old thing. I accepted this less last night, but I said I did you good."

Employer: "What kept you from work yesterday, acute indigestion?"
Typist: "No; a cute engineer this time."

The bride of two weeks came to her mother weeping bitterly.
"What's wrong now?" asked mamma.
"John's so stubborn," replied the daughter.

"Stubborn?"
"Yes—he—he says he can't wait—don't want to have a—big church funeral when he dies."

An old man, with his liveried chauffeur, was bowling along in his $5,000 car down the highway at 50 miles an hour. Suddenly another car whizzed past. The old man asked his chauffeur what kind of a car it was.

"One of those new Fords," was the reply.
"Well, James," the man said, "speed up and pass him. We can't be humiliated by a Ford."

The chauffeur speeded up, but it was all the big car could do to come abreast of the Ford. It could not muster the speed necessary to pass. The driver of the Ford leaned out.

"Why, something. What's the matter?"
"Spence Hughes forgot to tell me how to get this darned thing out of 'interference'."

"Offer to (couple in park) arrived!"
"Don't you see that sign 'Fine for Parking'?"
Driver: "Yes, Officer, I see it and heartily agree with it."

The Night Operator's Lament

COIN OF 1804 WORTH $1250

TAKEN IN FOR MOVIE TICKET

WAXCROSS, Ga.—It begins to appear as though a Waxcross "movie fan" has paid dearly for his look at the flicking shadows.

An 1804 silver dollar, presented at the ticket window of a theater here, attracted the attention of Mrs. Frank G. Hadame, wife of the owner. Now the coin has become the center of spirited bidding, and the best offer was made by a Fort Worth, Tex., coin dealer, volunteering to trade 1250 ordinary dollars for it. Only a few of the coins are said to be in existence.

The place first became famous for its pink and white terraces that were destroyed by eruption in '86. Through the action of water pouring over these rocks every time a geyser performs, the terraces will in time be as beautiful as ever, but as scientists tell us it will take 20,000,000 years for them to come up to their beauty as before the eruption, we decided not to wait, and spent the rest of our time seeing the wonders of Whaka and Waitangi.

The city of Rotorua is about 170 miles from Auckland by a good railway as well as motor service. The streets are very wide, from 50 to 120 feet; every street and avenue is well tree and well kept; a large number of fine hotels and boarding houses; some splendid parks where nearly every flower and flowering shrub in existence is to be seen, flowering most of the year; two large bath houses with circulating or running water; a government sanatorium, in the parks some of the wells are quite large, 60 feet or more wide, and some are 500 feet in the time. There are good roads leading from Rotorua to every point of importance, and motor service over all the roads. The charges for accommodation, bus service and baths are quite reasonable, so that one can spend a week or two here almost as cheap as in city.

The longest one-day trip is to Wairaki Springs and Lake Taupo, about sixty miles, costs $4.25 each person and $1.25 for each person for guide at Wairaki. Taupo is quite large, an inland sea, the best of fishing. There is a well laid out town, hotels, boat launches, and a mile or so on the road is a small village, where there is an old established hotel and bath houses of warm mineral springs.

Wairakei Valley is full of active springs. In one case there is a boiling well only three feet from a cold running stream. The guide, a Maori, who speaks good English, as is usual in these places, has all kinds of interesting and funny tales to tell of the different springs.

In the way back we stopped to see the falls on the Waikato river where water power is now being harnessed, and a mile or so on the road is a small village, where there is an old established hotel and bath houses of warm mineral springs.

Wairakei is the native village one mile out of Rotorua, is full of interesting things. Quite a number of the natives are recognized guides. Their charge is $50 per person for guide service and fee to go through the village. A number of the native women were busy washing in the flowing streams of warm water their food, potatoes, vegetables, fish, etc., were steaming in one of the boiling pools.

Guide, "Bella" took charge of our party. She is well educated, speaks good English and took over an hour showing the wonders of Whaka, all the time some warm and some cold at regular intervals. There are a great many pools of boiling mud splashing up nearly twenty feet. One of the mud pools is known as the eye pool. It has some oil in it and as it boils it is continually forming shapes of faces, some black and some white, the color of the iris. Another in the shape of roses, the folds of the flower being formed as the mud boils.

There are many other interesting things to see in the valley.

CONSCIENCE HURTS

OTTAWA.—The government today received four American $20 bills and one $10 bill as conscience money from a man who wrote that he felt took some heavier skins from government stores in the rebellion of 1885. He gave me five of them and it has been my conscience ever since." The writer valued the skins at $5 each in 1885 and sent $25 plus $63.75, which was the interest on $25 at six per cent for 43 1/2 years.

There are many things of interest at Whaka. The Government Forest Nursery joins the village. Here millions of young trees are raised. During the last twenty years the government have planted out 100,000 acres of land in forest, considerable of this is now ready for poles, milling and pulp. Last year 25,000 acres was planted out in forest and this year 25,000 more. There are hundreds of thousands of acres of poor scrub land south of Rotorua that is of little value, but grows trees very well. The cost of planting is only four dollars per acre.

NAMAKA

Mrs. Hamilton and daughter, of Calgary are visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Thompson.

A number of Namaka's high school students returned from Calgary to spend Easter at home, among them being the Misses Isabelle, and Margaret Thompson, and Alberta Watson.

E. Wilson is remodeling and decorating his home. Our suspicions are aroused.

Farming operations are still at a standstill in the district, but as it is an ill wind that blows nobody good, it is allowing all old jobs to be completed before the Spring rush.

A large number of schoolmates took in "Don't Hur" at Hirtle's Theatre last week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Pinkerton and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lawrie attended the Masonic Banquet and dinner in Strathmore Thursday evening.

Take notice all ye U.F.A. and I.O.O.F. members, that the reporter erred. The next combined meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Peterson on April 25th at 8:30 p.m., instead of at Mr. and Mrs. James McLean's as announced.

ARE CORPORATIONS
TAKES SHIFTS
TO CONSUMER

How far taxes levied upon the profits or incomes of corporations are shifted to the consumers of goods, or recipients of services, supplied by the taxpayer, is a problem that has been the subject of animated controversy ever since that form of taxation was suggested. It was held by advocates of the tax that it was a desirable method of raising public revenue because of the ease with which it could be assessed and the small expense involved in its collection.

A further argument advanced in its favor was that it was an indirect tax on the general public, and that through it large revenues could be obtained without incurring the usual protracted and increased taxation. This view of the operation of the tax was opposed by many economists, who asserted that it would not be possible to shift the tax to the consumer in the form of higher prices or additional charges.

When the time arrived for revising the tax laws under which corporate revenues had been raised for war purposes, it was urged by Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury that taxes on corporations were an obstacle to the saving of necessary capital and its further investment in productive industry. In line with this recommendation the taxes on corporations were reduced. Since that time efforts have been made to secure further reductions, but so far the change in the tax rate has been inconsiderable.

In an endeavor to ascertain the actual experience of the corporation under the tax, the National Industrial Conference Board has made an exhaustive investigation of the sales, profits and capital investment of 464 large and successful corporations for the period 1918-1925. The conclusions reached from the facts submitted are that the corporation income tax can not be shifted onto the consumer, except under unusual circumstances, such as during war times, or in the case of corporations enjoying patent, monopolistic, or similar special advantages, and that the tax does not affect prices nor the movement of capital investment.

Acceptance of this finding, that as a rule the corporation tax is shifted, will not strengthen sentiment in the Congress for its further reduction or repeal. The reduction from which the great majority of consumers do not benefit is not likely to be favored in a Presidential election year.

PROBLEMS IN CONNECTION WITH MARKETING COAL
The Financial Post, in discussing Alberta coal, says close attention will be paid by Alberta coal operators to establish a market for their product in Ontario during the next three years. Heretofore the freight rate has provided a stumbling block. This obstacle has now been removed by the Dominion Government, which has passed an order-in-council for a rate of $6.25 a ton.

The problem in connection with this movement are many, but they are not insurmountable. Distribution channels will have to be established. The various grades of coal will have to be advertised and sold, but not only the people of Ontario will have to be educated as to how they can secure the greatest value from Alberta domestic coals.

It is a matter of opinion as to whether or not Alberta coal can be placed on the Ontario market in three years' time. The coal operators believe they can do it. If they are successful, the Ontario householder will secure his coal at lower cost; millions of dollars now being spent on the imported product will remain at home; more work will be provided for Alberta's coal miners; the rail-

A Trip To New Zealand

BY JOHN A. MACDONALD

Formerly of Oklahe, Alberta.
To those who have not visited the "Beautiful Queen of the South," the writer would explain that New Zealand is neither an island nor an island, a point in Sydney Harbor, or some little something else in or about Australia.

New Zealand is a British Dominion, consisting of three islands, North, South and Stewart's Island. Population, including natives, all British, 800,000, by birth. New Zealand was well advertised in the old land by the important part that her people took in the Great War.

Principal exports are wool, meat and butter. There are about twenty-eight million sheep. I would guess, to look at the roads and streets that the most imports are automobiles. Within the last fifteen years there is a great change in the mode of transportation. Formerly most of the island traffic was done by train and horse coaches, as well as by some very fine steam boats on the coast. Now there are many fine highways, some of them smooth tar sealed; service cars and huge busses seem to come and go with the trains and ships everywhere. The trains, of course, carry on, but the coastal steam ships do very little business except the writer and company spent two very pleasant days at Waikanae with three old timers of that charming city Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. C. McKinnon and Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Young. These people were very kind, placed their homes and cars at our disposal while we were there.

The city itself is very pretty built near the mouth of the Waikanae River, known as the New Zealand Rhine, is very beautiful, is navigable for nearly two hundred miles, and is one of the scenic routes of the country. Some years ago a beautiful society was started. The streets, avenues and parks are now as fine as can be seen anywhere. The choicest of flowering shrubs from all over the world are to be seen at their best, most of which is in the flowering time of Australia. This tree is a beautiful blue red (various shades) all the summer.

N. Plymouth
Service cars run to the Mountain House, half way up Mt. Edmonstone, half way up Mt. Edmonstone, very pretty bush. The hotel has considerable accommodation, and many people stay there and climb mountains.

A splendid trip by service car from N. Plymouth to Te Kaiti on the main trunk railway. The distance of 110 miles is done regularly in five hours, including over half-hour's stop for lunch on the way. The road is excellent, that some of the turns are very sharp, good all the way. For the first thirty miles after leaving N. Plymouth it is not far from the sea. We travel through some very good country, prosperous dairy farms, and many large butter factories, over pretty rivers and over Mt. Messenger, then down again to the rivers.

Recently a fine bridge was built across the Moken River. The scenery is good all the way and some of the fern trees stand over fifty feet in height. About half way we come to the Awakino River. The road that strikes east and follows the river for many miles, and here we find, at Mt. Messenger, we travel all the way through almost virgin bush with large ferns everywhere, and an occasional farm in the making. To Kaiti is a fine growing town of several thousand people. This place is one of the real homes of the Maori, who did not get a proper start in life until the main trunk railway was put through about eighteen years ago.

Waikato Caves
Fifteen miles from Te Kaiti (rare by motor bus 12 shillings return) is a large modern tourist hotel, equipped with long distance radio and every possible comfort. The series of caves nearest the hotel are called Waikato; wide and low, one entrance from the hillsides and one from the river; several flights of steps below. The chambers are all lighted by electricity, walks and platforms built throughout, including the boat journey in the cave river. It takes nearly an hour for a party to go through, directed by an experienced New Zealand tourist guide. The guide, explains the story of each cave as we go along. Within the last fifteen years there is a great change in the mode of transportation. Formerly most of the island traffic was done by train and horse coaches, as well as by some very fine steam boats on the coast. Now there are many fine highways, some of them smooth tar sealed; service cars and huge busses seem to come and go with the trains and ships everywhere. The trains, of course, carry on, but the coastal steam ships do very little business except

Some of the caves are illuminated with millions of wax that do not stop to count them) of glow worms, which also infested the roof of the grotto or underground river. It is impossible to properly describe the beauty of these caves. The remarks in the visitors' book describe them and the caves in general thus: "The enchanted cave of stars," "The Eighth Wonder."

"The milky way of God's own country," "Cave of the Waikato," etc. etc. Two miles further on, by good road, and most perfect scenery of New Zealand's native bush, where the huge fern trees are many, we come to the Aranui Caves. If possible, more beautiful than Waikato. Here we find the Fairyland, Crystal Block, Temple of Peace, Checker Block at the head of Cathedral Majestic. Some of the stalagmites in the Crystal Palace stand 12 feet high, and about 4 feet at the base. Most of nature's decorations here are pure white, but in many places are colored through the action of water dripping through or over them. White shawls, blankets, dresses, mantles and over mantles and many other beautiful things are to be seen here.

Just across the Gorge, still through beautiful scenery, is the mouth of the Aranui Caves. Here, if possible, are their still. About a dozen spacious caverns or halls, connected by winding corridors, more delicate shades of cream, as well as various colors and pure white. Under these caves is the hidden river and water fall, the roar of which can be plainly heard.

The Tourist Department charge three shillings or 72 cents for guides services and entrance to each cave. Travelers are so satisfied that some of them go many times to see them. Accommodation at the hotel is $1.00 for room, 11.00 for each meal.
